

Gordi

UK/EU Tour

Gordi's 2026 EP Nylon hit the charts before it was released. She recorded the body of work live-to-tape in a single afternoon – with no overdubs and no edits – and played the new songs to fans on her Australian tour, selling every single advance copy before the internet knew anything about it.

Since her debut and sophomore albums Reservoir and Our Two Skins (2017 and 2020, Jagjaguwar), Gordi has built a devoted following on the strength of her songwriting alone – sparse, precise, and quietly devastating. She has performed alongside Bon Iver, The National, and Sam Smith, and collaborated with Troye Sivan and Julien Baker.

Her third album Like Plasticine drew on her experiences working as a medical doctor during the pandemic. The record received an ARIA nomination and landed placements on NPR All Songs Considered, BBC 6 Music, and Sirius XMU, with billboards appearing in Times Square – culminating in live performances on CBS Saturday Morning and The Kelly Clarkson Show.

Following a sold-out Australian tour, Gordi returns to the US in the fall, with more worldwide dates to come.
