

Australian rock band Slowly Slowly have today announced their debut UK/EU headline run for March 2025, following a highly-praised first visit alongside fellow Aussies, Stand Atlantic, earlier this Month.

The band, who release their new album, Forgiving Spree, on January 24 2025, via Nettwerk Music Group, play the following date:

MARCH 29, 2025 COLOGNE, Artheater

Speaking of the tour, frontman Ben Stewart says, "a UK & EU headline tour has been a long time coming for us, we are so excited to be able to connect with people that have been holding out to see us play. We loved our short visit with mStand mAtlantic and didn't realise what we've been missing out on."